

Becoming an Ally

Efficiency
Canada

Carleton
UNIVERSITY

Welcome to the voice for an energy efficient economy.

Efficiency Canada is the national voice for an energy efficient economy. Our vision is a Canada that uses energy efficiency to its fullest potential. This means maximizing the potential of energy efficiency, leading to a sustainable environment, a productive economy and a just and equitable society.

And we make a big impact.

Since our launch in 2018, we have highlighted the strength and resilience of the sector in a global pandemic, and demonstrated the passion towards achieving a low carbon economy. We met regularly with members of Parliament, and convened the industry and community around purpose-driven issues. We are recognized by media and governments across the country, and have contributed research and opinions that have moved the dial on energy efficiency policy at all levels of government. And, we're showing that energy efficiency is a thriving sector, with robust employment opportunities.

We need you, to keep making powerful changes.

As a charitable organization, we rely on the support of the sector to make our research and our voice more powerful. Becoming an official Efficiency Canada Ally allows you to leverage the Ally network, contribute to important policy discussions with leaders, and to become a recognized leader in energy efficiency with your peers, clients and decision makers. Don't miss out on this amazing opportunity to join over 60 organizations who are already benefitting from their participation as an Efficiency Canada Ally. This is your chance to be part of something bigger.
